TITLE: Nottingham Post Business Awards - Employer of the Year category

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The Commissioner has been offered the opportunity to sponsor the Nottingham Post Business Awards which celebrate business success in and around Nottingham, recognising the achievements of the business community, which fuels the local economy and is a valuable partner to the police.

The category proposed is Employer of the Year Award, recognising that the safety and security of employees at work and that of their personal possessions is an important corporate responsibility.

INFORMATION IN SUPPORT OF DECISION: (e.g report or business case)

The Nottingham Post Business Awards celebrate business success in and around Nottingham, including the city's renowned night-time economy which plays a significant role in the city's current and future prosperity.

The Commissioner has been offered the opportunity to sponsor the Employer of the Year category for 2018, with integral criteria relating to the safety and security measures in place to protect employees.

Given that the business community is a valued partner to the police and community safety organisations alongside the focus on business related criminality, it was felt that there was a valuable synergy with this category. The inclusion of safety and security criteria is absolutely fundamental to that view.

This is a highly visible move that will raise awareness of the need for businesses to take effective measures to keep employees safe from criminality and harm. It will also provide a platform enabling communications directly to a specific and important target audience.
