TITLE: RURAL CRIME RESEARCH 2018

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The PCC plans to partake in two national rural crime research projects which are being commissioned and co-ordinated via North Yorkshire OPCC and the National Rural Crime Network. The research projects comprise

- Understanding Domestic Abuse in Rural Areas (£5,400) - Focus group and workshop exercise with support workers, face to face research with victims and a victim survey to improve understanding of barriers to support among victims of domestic abuse in rural areas
- National Rural Crime Survey (£1,500) – Additional questions and bespoke local area analysis and reporting on the national rural policing survey to understand the issues facing those who live and work in rural communities.

INFORMATION IN SUPPORT OF DECISION: (e.g report or business case)

The Nottinghamshire police force area is a home to a sizeable rural population. Rural crime remains a key area of focus within the PCCs Police and Crime Plan and as such, the PCC is keen to take this opportunity to benchmark the profile of rural crime victims in Nottinghamshire against the national picture. The PCC is also keen to develop the local understanding of barriers to support among victims of domestic abuse in rural Nottinghamshire. The Police and local domestic abuse service providers were consulted ahead of the decision to take part in the national research and expressed their support for the proposal.
